Dr Briceno is a Rural Generalist Surgeon, a Medical Administrator and a Medical Educator, who has worked in North East Arnhem Land for the last 12 years.

He is devoted to developing sustainable workforce models, to drive contemporary health reforms, and to design modern and innovative models of clinical care that are applicable to rural and remote settings, and that are culturally appropriate for Indigenous Australians.

Dr Briceno systematically works to inform and influence health policies at the Regional and Territory level, striving to infuse them with a strong focus on the needs of rural and remote medicine and Indigenous health.
