

Professor Kevin Forsyth

MB, ChB, MD, PhD, FRACP, FRCPA

Kevin Forsyth trained as a Paediatrician and Paediatric Immunologist, undertaking postgraduate training in London. He has worked as Director of Immunology, Princess Margaret Hospital for Children, Perth, and Head and Professor of Paediatrics and Child Health at Flinders Medical Centre and Flinders University. From 2006 he spent 5 years as Dean and Director of Education for the Royal Australasian College of Physicians.

Currently he is Director of a Supervision Support project working across the three medical training sectors of Medical Deans, CPMEC and CPMC, as well as Chair of the South Australian Medical Education and Training Health Advisory Council.